Join 4-H

Find out what more than 350 Camden County 4-H club members already know!

4-H-Imagine the Possibilities! 4-H is a fun, informal educational organization for youth in grades K-13.

In 4-H, youth learn:

- practical skills • take leadership roles • practice citizenship • learn teamwork • public speaking

4-H club members hold regular meetings, elect officers, plan meetings, and work on 4-H projects throughout the year, all with the guidance of adult volunteers.

4-H programming can also be provided through: school enrichment programs; afterschool programs; short-term programs; independent projects; and weekend or camping programs.

The Camden County 4-H Youth Development Program is a collaboration of Rutgers Cooperative Extension, the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station and Camden County. In 2009-10, nearly 1,000 youth participated in 4-H club programs, afterschool programs and school enrichment. Call us to find out how you can join this exciting youth organization!
