

NALOXONE SAVES LIVES

YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

WHAT IS THE GOOD SAMARITAN LAW?

New Jersey's Good Samaritan Law is designed to encourage individuals to assist those experiencing a drug overdose without fear of legal repercussions.

- Administer Naloxone: If you see someone in danger from an opioid overdose, you can use naloxone (Narcan) to reverse the effects.
- No Liability: Under this law, you are protected from legal liability when providing assistance in good faith during an overdose crisis.
- Be a Hero: Your actions can save a life. Don't hesitate to help!

WHAT IS NALOXONE?

- Naloxone is a life-saving medication that can quickly reverse an opioid overdose. It's easy to use and accessible to everyone.
- Naloxone will not harm someone if you give it to them and they are not overdosing on an opioid.
- Naloxone can be given safely to people of all ages, from infants to older adults. This includes an adolescent or young adult who may have unintentionally taken an opioid.

IF YOU THINK THAT SOMEONE IS OVERDOSING ON AN OPIOID OR ANOTHER SUBSTANCE, YOU SHOULD:

- Call 911 immediately.
- Give naloxone as quickly as possible, if available. Don't wait for emergency workers to arrive before giving naloxone.
- Try to keep the person awake and breathing.
- Lay the person on their side to prevent choking.
- Stay with the person until emergency workers arrive.

REMEMBER

Every moment counts, and your quick action can save a life. Know the signs of an overdose and be prepared to help.
